Subject: RE: Safety prequalification - our company score

Dear Mr Bui,

Thank you for your enquiry and for submitting the Contractor Safety Assessment (CSA-72).

After reviewing the result, I regret to inform you that a score of 68/100 falls below HCSA's minimum threshold of 70, required for contractor engagement under POL-CO-003 Section 7.1.

As such, your company is currently ineligible for engagement on our projects.

We note your 12 years of operations without a fatality, and we encourage you to review the scoring breakdown to identify areas for improvement. You are welcome to resubmit the CSA-72 after a minimum of 30 days following remediation steps.

Regarding enhanced supervision — this applies only to contractors scoring 70–79 and would not be applicable here. There is no cost to contractors for this arrangement.

Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions about the resubmission process.

Warm regards,

Rachel Tan

Hi,

We are applying to be contractor for HCSA project in Pulau Ulu. We did the safety assessment form (CSA-72 i think?) last week and our coordinator told us we got 68/100.

Can we still work with you? We have very good track record pls check. We been in business 12 years no fatality.

Also if got enhanced supervision what does that mean exactly? Is extra cost to us?

Rgds
